Greetings! First I want to thank the artists who participated in ARTtetera 2016, the triennial event that functions as both an exhibition and a fundraiser. Over fifty artists were invited and agreed to participate. Each provided an artwork that was auctioned on the opening night of the exhibition and remained on view to the public for ten weeks.

Additional fundraising included Art Center’s ArtSplash, the annual arts festival held at Riverside Park over Labor Day Weekend. As in the past the family friendly event attracted large, enthusiastic crowds. Funds raised by both events support the Art Center’s free education and exhibition programs.

The exhibition program in Fiscal Year 2015-2016 marked another banner year for the Art Center, with the exhibition Art of the Brick® attracting over 25,000 visitors in its ten-week run. The exhibition of unique sculptures, constructed of LEGO® bricks drew a wide cross section of the community. Made possible by support from the Blockbuster Partners, the exhibition fulfilled the mission of the Partners to sponsor major exhibitions, which raise the visibility of the Art Center in the region, as well as broaden our audience.

Similar to our Fiscal Year 2014 – 2015 Blockbuster sponsored exhibition, Jackson Pollock: Mural, many of our visitors noted that it was their first time in the Art Center. To date, the Blockbuster Partnership has underwritten eight major exhibitions, as well as supporting the purchase of ten art works for the Permanent Collection.

Other exhibition highlights during the past year included a thought-provoking show by three young artists using photography and installation design to explore memory. In addition to the photographs being installed on the gallery walls in unusual locations and with varying spacing, the artists chose not to include labels for the individual works. The effect of the placement of the images and lack of labels effectively encouraged the viewer to speculate on an implied narrative between the images.

In addition, two one-person shows by local artists, both retired professors emeriti, John Bowitz and Bill Welu, also engaged the viewer but in very different ways. Bowitz’s work provided visitors with a diary-like view of the artists personal life through his collage works, featuring both an assortment of detritus from the artist’s everyday life: bills, postcards, magazine images, as well as personal commentary and drawings by the artist. In contrast to Bowitz’s loaded autobiographical works, Welu’s exhibition was austere in the extreme. Welu presented one white-on-white painting, purposely absent a title or artist’s explanation. While Bowitz work wore, at least on first consideration, its meaning on its sleeve, Welu’s exhibition challenged the viewer to reflect on the single work of art, the artist’s purpose, and finally on their own expectations of what art should be.

While the exhibition program featured eighteen shows, the Permanent Collection continued to grow, adding thirteen new works, including two large format photographs by internationally recognized, Minnesota based-artist Stuart Klipper.

In the education area, Debra Marqusee was promoted from interim to permanent education coordinator. Under her leadership the Art Center continued to provide an outstanding program of classes, docent led tours of the collections, special workshops for businesses and non-profits, summer Art Camps for children, as well as free special family fun days, and holiday workshops.

For a full accounting of the Art Center’s program and recognition of all of those that make the Art Center possible please read the following report.

I look forward to seeing you at the Art Center.

Docent Program and Art Center Staff
Our team of eight dedicated docents as well as Debra Marqusee and Noelle Vondrak conducted 81 tours serving over 2,200 children and adults. Included in these numbers is the ARTWORKS program, serving fifth grade students who receive free busing, a guided tour, and an opportunity to create a piece of artwork based on the Grant Wood murals. There were 20 ARTWORKS tours with a total of 707 fifth-grade students.

Youth Art Month
In celebration of Youth Art Month, the Sioux City Art Center held its 27th Annual Juried Youth Art Exhibition for area high schools, from February 13 – April 10, 2016.
